EXTRACURRICULARS

Vex Robotics | 2018 - 2022 | Coder and Builder

In high school VEX Robotics, coders play a pivotal role by programming VEX robots to execute specific tasks. They employ programming languages like C++ or Python to develop software that controls the robot's behavior. Coders design algorithms, integrate sensors and implement control structures to guide the robot's autonomous actions. They also create code for teleoperated mode, enabling human operators to control the robot. Coders collaborate with the team, debug their programs, and engage in iterative development to optimize the robot's performance.

Varsity Tennis | 2018 - 2020 | Teammate

A tennis player is a skilled athlete who engages in competitive play at an advanced level. They have a rigorous training regimen to cultivate their abilities, encompassing proficiency in technique, agility, and strategic tactics. The varsity tennis athletes embody their educational institution during matches and tournaments, determined to achieve personal and collective victory. Individuals exhibit sportsmanship, discipline, and commitment in their conduct, both within and outside the confines of the athletic arena. Varsity Tennis players significantly contribute to the collective morale by inspiring and supporting their fellow athletes during the season.
